

Extract from Poem 'Those Who Cry Out'

Hear the prayer,
O Lord, of these and all others who cry out

And pour upon their wounds

The healing balm of your mercy.

Question:

Micah 6:87 calls for us to do justice, be kindly, and walk humbly? What does that look like, and how might we notice it?

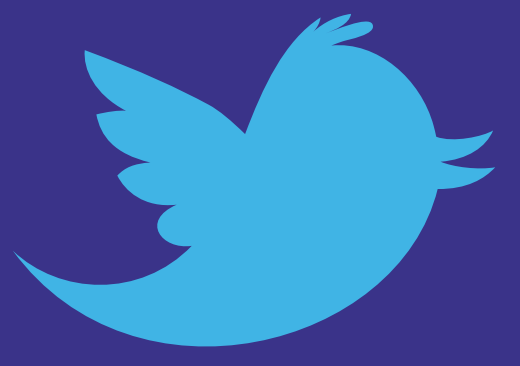

Take the opportunity to respond through image, poetry, prayer, a Bible verse, text, tweets, or sharing something you've found or created online.

<http://bigbible.org.uk/bigread/bigread14>

Facebook: <http://j.mp/FBBigRead>

Twitter: #BIGRead14